United States Vessels at Mare Island

A correspondent of the Bulletin, who lately visited Mare Island Navy Yard, furnishes an interesting account of the U. S. ships at that place. We condense the chief points of his letter.

THE NAVY YARD

Is intended for the largest naval rendezvous in the United States, and at the present time, in all its departments, employs about 600 men. A number of buildings are in process of erection.

LIST OF OFFICERS

The Yard is commanded by the following officers: Commodore D. B. McDougal, Captain Spotts, Lieutenant-Commander George Young, Buttowain W. Walker. The Marine Barracks is under the command of Colonel Mathew Kintzing—200 men.

WHERE THE EMPLOYES LIVE.

The major portion of the men employed at Mare Island reside at Vallejo, or in modern Greek, "Vally Joe." The town is mostly made up of unpretending dwellings, and hotels, the latter of which are the most numerous.

INDEPENDENCE.

This frigate, which in years gone by was commanded by the gallant Stephen Decatur, at Tripoli, is now under the command of Capt. Parker, a distinguished veteran of the service. She was built in 1808, and is considered one of the fast sailing ships in the Navy. She has made her last cruise, as the Monitors have "shot her out," she has degenerated from a first to a third-class frigate, and is now used as a receiving ship for the use of officers and men from ships undergoing repairs or lately enlisted.

CYANE.

This sloop of war has also a history. It will be remembered that she was captured by the good old frigate Constitution from the British, in a running fight, in company with her consort, the Levant—[6 gun sloops. Originally the Cyane was captured by the British from the French. She is now undergoing repairs as a storeship. Monitors have "played her out" also.

JAMESTOWN

Famous in history as the vessel that parties paid in rolling the wants of "Pour Erin" in 1817. At that date she was commanded by Captain R. F. Forbes of Boston, formerly a sea captain, and now a millionaire merchant of that city. She was manned by a volunteer crew, and her chaplain was the renowned Father Taylor, [well known in San Francisco,] who for years presched in the Seamen's Bethel in Boston. She went into the Cove of Cork in sixteen days, where, like a generous Cerne, she discharged flour and corn from her port-holes, instead of thirty-two pound shot. The Jamestown was lately repaired and transformed into a storeship, and intended for the China Seas in that capacity. She will carry a small battery, and will be commanded by a Lieutenant Commander and a crew of about seventy men. She is a very fast ship.

JOHN HANCOCK.

Familiarly called the venerable "John," was one of the fleet under Commodore Perry in the expedition to Japan, etc. She was built at Boston for a water-tank and anchor-boy; had a false bow and stern put on her, and fitted for sea with a pair of prize engines.

HUMBOLDT.

This schooner, used in the Surveying service, is comparatively useless. She is, however, a fine little craft, and would make a down east fishing skipper break his neck to look at her. She is now laid up.

MONTEREY.

This steam tug is laid up in ordinary; she was formerly called the steam tug Monitor; cost Uncle Sam too much money to be so little account.

VANDERBILT.

This vessel, which recently arrived at the Island, is now being repaired, preparatory to her departure for the Atlantic waters. It is reported that she is to be transferred to her original owner, Commodore Vanderbilt, of New York.

SAGINAW.

Left the Navy Yard a week ago for San Francisco, having been fitted up in good style and ordered to the Northern Coast in the service of the Russian Telegraph Company. Lieutenant-Commander Franklin (brother of Major General Franklin of the Union Army,) goes out in command of this vessel. The Saginaw is noted as being the first Government ship built at Mare Island, she has the reputation of extraordinary speed.

MONADNOCK

Is also at the yard.

CAMANCHE.

All San Francisco knows her history. She cost the tax-payers a good round sum. She left the Island a few days ago for San Francisco, and has arrived in port. The officers in command are: Commander, Charles McDougall; Acting Master, John Adams.

DEFIANCE.

The French storeship Rhin is daily expected. She has again had the bad luck to have her bottom knocked out.

THIS IS DEMOCRACY.—The following is a short record from the proceedings of the late Democratic Convention in San Francisco:

Pullen, a delegate from the Eighth District, in advocating the claims of Henry Hixon for Chief of Police, stated that Hixon had been a Democrat in the dark hours of the party, that he had refused to lower the flag on his residence to half-mast upon the death of "that great arch-traitor, Abraham Lincoln." For this act he had been persecuted in his business and been hounded down, but with the blessing of God he would triumph over his adversaries yet.

This evidence of Hixon's unadulterated Democracy was received with applause and cheers.

A "conservative" member, however, appeared to think that Pullen had stopped over," and rose to an explanation. He stated that he was a neighbor of Hixon's, and that Hixon had actually lowered his flag on the occasion referred to. It was not, however, out of respect to Abraham Lincoln, a man for whom he knew Hixon never entertained any respect in his life time, but on account of the death of the President of the United States. His statement did not appear to lighten Hixon's popularity, and was received without applause.

QUEER DEFINITION OF LOVE AND POLITICS.—A man named A. J. Jones was taken before the Courts of Ukiah, Mendocino county, Cal., a few days ago, charged with being crazy and in love—the proofs being that he "acted singular." In reply to questions, J. nes stated that he was not a Mormon, but was a Presbyterian in religion and a Democrat in politics. Judge McGarvey, who appeared for the defense, thereupon inquired whether his client had avowed himself a Democrat? The Court so understood him. "Then, your Honor," observed McGarvey, with an air of consternation, "I must abandon the case; for how can I defend from insanity, a man who makes so shameful and ridiculous an avowal!"

A boy fourteen years old, named Sheldon, and living in Chautauqua county, New York, while out hunting lately, heard his dog howling as though in great distress, and on going to see what was the matter with him found him in the coils of a large snake. The boy being plucky and full of fidelity to his dog, at once approached to rescue him, when the snake suddenly uncoiled from the dog and made a rush for the boy, but the latter fired hastily at the reptile and fortunately hit it and broke its back, and the dog sprang upon and soon finished it. It was rather a large snake, being thirteen feet long and about three inches in diameter.

Discouraging of Feminism in the British army, and the responsibility entailed by the military oath, the London Times declares that "a man who solemnly takes service under a government, and then proves false to his flag and his uniform, has forfeited all claim to mercy, and is not a fit subject for clemency. How about Gen. Robert E. Lee and the rest of that

The Daily Oregonian.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 28, 1866

The Congressional Mileage System

The New York Tribune, a journal which is the vigilant enemy of public extravagance in every form, again calls attention to the Congressional mileage system and "hopes that we may some time have a Congress honest enough to abolish it altogether." The Tribune is not alone in demanding this reform. Public attention at the East seems to have been largely drawn towards the matter of late, as very frequent mention is made of it by the press in many of the States.

It is very clear that a principal incentive to many of the pigmy politicians of the far West to serve the people in Congress, is the very liberal pay, (mileage and salary) which the position affords. Reduce the perquisites so as to make the office but decently remunerative, and we should have vastly fewer candidates for Congressional honors. Fully $100,000 mileage is paid every two years to the members from Oregon, California, Washington and Idaho. To the members from Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Montana and other States and Territories almost as remote from the Capital, immense sums are also paid, on pretense that it is required for traveling expenses. One tenth of the sum allowed would be ample for the purpose, especially as many of the members do not return home during the recess of Congress, but manage often to get several months of very pleasant travel elsewhere at the expense of the Government—drawing constructive mileage with excessive punctuality, and obtaining just as much for buzzing about Newport and Saratoga as they would for returning home and looking after the interests of their constituents, consulting about their wants and preparing to press them upon the attention of Congress.

Our taxes are heavy, the public debt is enormous, and the necessary expenses of the Government are large. The people, though discharging their obligations cheerfully, feel these burdens. Members of Congress should be willing to make sacrifices as well as other persons, and instead of voting themselves enormous sums of money out of the public treasury, should consent to receive fair compensation for the services they render.

Capital and Labor.

The Boston Journal describes a new arrangement between labor and capital that has been tried in England, called the industrial partnership scheme. This new plan is intended to secure to the workmen in manufacturing establishments a bonus, besides the regular wages, of the profits accruing to the enterprise, over and above a certain per centage secured to the capital. In other words, a manufacturing company binds itself, after dividing a certain per centage upon their capital, to divide the surplus, whatever it may be, among the workmen. As far as this experiment has been tried, it has proved very successful. It benefits both the capitalist and laborer; the former by securing the watchfulness of the workman and inspiring him with an interest in his business; the latter, by securing to skillful industry larger rewards than the wages ordinarily received for daily labor. It awakens the industry and care of the workman and brings him a larger remuneration for his services. In some places in the United States the experiment has also been tried, and always, it is said, with good results.

The Prussians have a new kind of rifle which is in use in their armies. The explosive material which is used in the manufacture of cartridges for this new arm, is said to be a compound of ingredients known only to one man—the inventor; and so determined is the Government that the secret shall not escape, that that man is guarded night and day by a squad of twelve soldiers; every letter which he writes is inspected, and he is not allowed to communicate orally with any person except in the presence of his guard. Rather a severe penalty to pay for knowledge and greatness.

Ah God! for a man with a heart, head, hand,
Like one of the simple great ones gone
Forever and ever by;
One still strong man in a blatant land,
Whatever you call him what care I—
Aristocrat, democrat, autocrat one
Who can rule and dare not lie!

The noble wish expressed in these verses is now, in substance often ruefully repeated by the true men of this republic who have been betrayed by those whom they advanced to the highest places of trust and honor.

How much better than a traitor to his country is he who desires the disruption of the Union party through whose agency alone the country has been saved? How much better than a traitor is the man, be he Andrew Johnson himself, who would endanger the national life by striking a blow at that national party organization, without which the Government would now have no existence? A blow at the integrity of the Union party is a blow at the integrity of the Union itself.

* * * * You destroy its life
When you destroy the means whereby it lives.

HIS ADIEU TO JOHNSON.—"J. W. S.," the Washington correspondent of the Bulletin, over an ardent admirer of the President, thus gracefully surrenders to the "logic of events:"

In this state of facts practical and earnest Union men have but one course to pursue, and that a straight-forward one in support of the Compromise Amendment, regardless of the President. Concede the highest respect for Mr. Johnson's political integrity, and entire faith in the abstract propriety of reconstructin, and still something is due to the sincerity of those who disagree with him. The compromise of opposing sentiment, embodied in the Constitutional Amendment adopted by the nearly unanimous vote of Union men in Congress, ought to be accepted. At all events, our choice lies between success upon that platform or a Copperhead triumph. It is useless to discuss abstract principles any farther. The issue is already made up, and those who look to practical results will take matters as they are and strive to get the greatest amount of good out of the alternatives set before them. Nor is it worth while now to urge that the compromise will not be accepted by three-fourths of the States. Our present duty is to try it; when it has failed, if it does fail, then will be time enough to discuss what shall be done next. Our care now should be to get the amendment ratified if possible, and to see to it, at all events, that if by any chance we fail in that, we do not at the same time let the sceptre of power pass into the hands of those who will "let the late rebel States in upon their own terms."

SAILING UNDER FALSE COLORS.—The Sacramento Union says:

The call to create a new "National Union party" has the benefit of the indorsement of four persons, among whom we find the names of Nesmith, of Oregon, and Hendricks, of Indiana, who in assuming the position of deserters from the Union party, are sailing under false colors, because neither of them were recognized as members of the party which they now profess to abandon. With all the preparation and mustering of forces to inaugurate this enterprise, it presents thus far a rather beggarly account of influential names, and a decided scarcity of such as have enjoyed the hearty confidence of the mass of Union men.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.—The Detroit Post says in regard to the passage of the constitutional amendment in Connecticut:

Connecticut is the first State which has ratified the constitutional amendment. As her legislature has been freshly elected on a direct issue between the President and the Radicals, as the "Democratic" candidate English was indorsed by him, the stupid cry of the Democracy and Johnson about passing it without referring it to the people will be as "the crackling of thorns under the pot."

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

The Eastern line is out of order beyond Laramie. No report.

The Board of Trustees of the Mercantile Library adopted plans for their proposed new building. It is to be four stories high and of a style of architecture like that of the Cosmopolitan Hotel. It is stated that the proposed mill fire will be the finest of the kind for library purposes in the United States.

William Fulton filed his application of his bankruptcy today. His creditors claim that he can pay his debts to fifteen by bad debts and remaining stock. Liabilities, $4757 59.

The case of the city C. Sandwich Indictment for obtaining money by false pretenses, was further continued in the County Court to-day for the term, on account of the absence of Thomas G. Higgins, the principal witness for the prosecution.

The number of citizens whose names had been entered on the Great Register up to noon day was 11,706 of these, 6,355 were foreign born, including about 100 of American parentage. The balance, 5,601, were native born.

John Ohman, indicted for selling fire to the Morning Light Sales-man at South Reach, was tried in the County Court yesterday and acquitted.

The Sutter Street Railroad Co. have broken ground at the junction of Sansome and Sutter streets preparatory to extending their road through Battery to Union streets.

W. C. Ralston has bought the two fine mills in boring to the Real Del Norte Mining Company in Esmeralda for $100,000.

The arrival of the Siam ship Silas Greenman in this port has prevented some difficulties at the Custom House which have not yet been settled. The officials here think they must add 10 per cent additional duties on the cargo by way of discrimination, because there is no reciprocity treaty between this country and Siam. The consignees of the ship will telegraph to the Washington authorities to ascertain in reference to the matter and find out whether or such discrimination is just and equitable. Our large cargo 10 per cent additional duty is an important item.

The auction sale of San Francisco and Pacific Refinery sugars was the principal feature on the general merchandise market this morning. The Circle "A" crushed sugar was sold at an average decline of from ¼ to ⅜ of a cent of the previous day's sale. The other kind brought relatively better prices.

The market for exchange and bullion for Monday's steamer has not fairly opened yet. Leading bankers quote commercial drafts on the Atlantic at 2¼ per cent; currency do 4@5; premium on gold telegraph transfers at 3 per cent, and 60 day bankers' exchange at 40¼. Mexican dollars are nominally at 6@6½ @ premium.

Markets.

Flour—There has been some sales for export to Mexico, the particulars of which are kept private. Jobbing trade without change; superfine $7 @ 8 50; extra $8 50@9 50; family $9 50@10 50; or the $10@$5 25 extra brands $5 50@5 50. Wheat—Shipping new for export at $1 40 prime now, to millers at $1 55 @ 1 60 ₱ ctl.

Barley—There is some inquiry, but holders do not seem willing to sell at the ruling quotations, thinking prices must advance before long.

Potatoes—Mission are quoted to-day at 60@65c per 100 pounds.

Honey Market.

No later gold despatches. The market for legal tenders is unchanged—71 buying and 73½ selling. There is no particular activity even at these figures.

Mining Stocks.

Mining stocks are on the back track again to-day. Savages was sold this morning at a decline of $20 from morning board of yesterday; Yellow Jacket declined $15; Ophir $7 50; Overman and Chollar Potosi each $5, and Bullion $2. Confidence advanced $1. Union Insurance stock sold at 128.

Shipping.

Arrived July 26.—Argentine bark Jose, 44 days from Carmen Island.

Sailed July 26.—British bark Speedwell, Cork. 27th—Steamer Pacific, San Pedro.

FROM IDAHO.

From the Idaho Union, we gather the following:

The steamer Shoshone is laying up at Gill's Ferry, waiting for a supply of wood. "All quiet on the Weiser."

The Payette river is now within its banks—the first time within the last three months. Farmers along the Payette are busy cutting hay. An immense amount of that article will be harvested this season in Payette and Boise valleys.

A People's Convention was held at Rocky Bar on the 7th. O. W. Gobin was nominated for the Council and Daniel Comstock and B. J. Nordyke for the Assembly. Comstock subsequently declined, and the Central Committee nominated Nelson Davis.

Tom Wilson, confined in the jail on the charge of killing a Chinaman, not liking the style of business adopted by the officials in permitting Slocum to escape from his company, resigned his "position" on Sunday morning, after breakfast, vaulted over the fence and traveled. Morning came intimate that Tom is in pursuit of Slocum that the $1,000 made Tom vamat and sordid. Don't believe a word of it! If Tom and Slocum had only stolen the "ministerial" bilks around the Capitol, when they decamped, there would be "none to molest them or make them afraid." Go it, Tom!

We clip the following from the Boise Statesman of the 10th inst:

"SEEN FOORMAN"—MORE INDIAN DEPREDATIONS.

Wm. Law, just in by stage gives the following news from Owyhee, just as we were going to press: "The Foorman" suit is settled—both parties consolidating under the name of the "Foorman." The Chico stage was attacked by Indians near the forks of the Owyhee—one horse killed, and one passenger shot in the leg. The stage arrived at Ruby last night, and report one hundred citizens in pursuit of the Indians. The Indians made a raid on Wagon Town, two miles below Boomville, and drove off a lot of stock, night before last.

Her H. Hamilton brought into our sanctum yesterday afternoon a card of honey held within a square frame about 10 by 12 inches, just as it was taken from the hive weighing over five pounds. It was as white and transparent as the most beautiful crystals, and really the most delicious treat ever presented to the printer, our exquisite tastes were for once outdone. Mr. Hamilton has paid considerable attention to bees and treats them on purely scientific principles. He has a large quantity of this season's crop of honey, a thousand times better than any ever brought to this market, to which we would call the attention of all our readers of good taste.

STATE ITEMS.

Wells, Fargo & Co. received at their office at the Dalles, during the past week, $200,000 in gold dust.

The crickets which have been very destructive to vegetation in the Burnt river valley, have nearly ceased their devastations.

The Idaho Union says "travel from Oregon is still coming to this country." The stages from Umatilla are running full.

Judge Wilson has given a decision in the contested case from Grant county. By the decision Mr. Howard is Sheriff of the county. We will publish the decision in full in our next. So says the Mountaineer.

Of the projected woolen factory at the Dalles, the Mountaineer says: "The Directors of the woolen factory mean business. During the past week the first instalment of the capital stock was paid to the Treasurer; and yesterday, a party of gentlemen, with Mr. J. W. Brazee, civil engineer, started for the headwaters of Mill creek, with a view of turning the north fork of Hood river into that stream. Messrs. Ferguson, Gates and others, who have been to the locality, report it entirely practicable. A ditch of about two miles will have to be cut, through what is known as the meadows; and with the ditch completed, a supply of water equal to four times the quantity at present in Mill creek can be turned into that stream. Mr Ferguson estimates the cost of cutting the ditch at about $1,000. On the return of Mr. Brazee, if he should report favorably on the project, a contract will be let, and the work pushed forward at once.

LITERARY SCANDAL.—The New York correspondent of the Syracuse Journal says:

A curious bit of literary scandal is quietly circulating in town to-day, and occasioning some amusement and more indignation. You have doubtless received and read with proper interest Dr. Craven's narrative of the prison life of Jefferson Davis—a book that purports to be a disclosure of the conversations and opinions of the distinguished prisoner of State. As such, the book was received as a valuable addition to American biography—not a very reputable one, considering the way in which it was made up, but still valuable and interesting. The papers of Saturday gave copious extracts from them—the World to the extent of two pages and a half, and the other papers giving from three to four columns each to extracts and a resume of its contents. But this morning the fact leaks out that Dr. Craven, who has little tact at book making, employed that prince of literary Bohemians, "Private Miles O'Reilly," to work up his notes in the artistic style for which the "O'Reilly" is somewhat famed. He has made a very interesting book, but people would really like to know whether they are perusing Dr. Craven's records of genuine conversations or only the brilliant, imaginative inventions of a man who has no literary conscience, what ever may be his abilities.

KOSSUTH'S ADVICE.—The Lombardia of Milan publishes the following declaration addressed by Kossuth to the Hungarians:

TURIN, June 6, 1866.

A great number of my fellow countrymen from different parts of Italy having asked me what they ought to do under the present circumstances, and it being impossible for me to reply personally to all, I declare, by these presents, in my opinion, all of those of my fellow countrymen employed in military service or any other duty would do well to remain where they are and await patiently the course of events. Those, on the contrary, who have no occupation, who are fit for military service and wish to enter it, will do well to enlist in the Hungarian Legion. They may besides be all convinced that if affairs become developed so as to offer a field of action to their patriotic zeal, due notice shall be given to them.

L. KOSSUTH.

Jeff. Davis bears strong testimony against President Johnson. He says that many of those whom Johnson has pardoned, were men who advised the South to hoist the black flag, and make the struggle a desperate and bloody massacre. How will American ever escape from the obliging disgrace which Johnson has brought upon it by pardoning such fiendish traitors?

DENTITION.—The Rome Courier says there are in Floyd county, Georgia, between eight hundred and a thousand white persons destitute of bread—most of them widows and children, not included in that class for which the Legislature made an appropriation. The Courier adds that the county has no money, and cannot sell county bonds, unless at fifty cents or less on the dollar.

TALENT IN CONGRESS.—The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says:

"There is an array of greater heads than ever before, probably made the splendid are of the House pictorial. We are in the habit of lamenting the absence of the cluster which attracted the partisanship of the world twenty years ago, when all Congress, to the common eye was made up of a few principal personages. That was a period when the average of intelligence was low, and out of the half mediocre half barbaric delegation the men of talent rose colossal. The statures are no less to-day, but the average is higher and in the attrition of many wits, the few of superior wit take less command. I have been talking with the venerable Chief Phonographer of Congress, Sutton, whose memory of Representatives is faithful, and he said "The debates are not as dreary as they used to be, though there are no great dictators as before. I don't think that Clay, or any of the great men past, would have the same easy time if they were here now."

The battle of Stone River, fought and won by Gen Rosecrans, was very bloody. The national loss was one fifth of the force engaged. Here a cemetery for the Union dead has been laid out. It covers sixteen acres, and is to be enclosed with a substantial wall 1½ feet high. Over 5,000 are now interred there, of whom the largest number from any one State, over 1,000, are Ohioans. But three or four are from Massachusetts. Where the friends do not furnish a stone, the Government will erect one of Chattanuga marble, 3 feet high (one half the length being above ground), 1 foot wide, 6 inches thick, rounded at the top, with the name and regiment of the soldier on the top.

GOOD STARTOR.—One of the healthiest symptoms in the South, is the establishment of numerous factories of cloth and iron in almost all of the eleven States. Northern capital and skill are going there to build up a kind of general prosperity and progress, which those States have never known.

DESTROYED BY WATER.—The crops of hundreds of plantations along the Coosa, Tallapoosa and Alabama rivers have been entirely destroyed by the high waters.

PICTURES INDEED.—ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL 89 First street, continue to supply the public demand for their SPLENDID PHOTOGRAPHS. While the specimens at this GALLERY bear evidence of animation, they always attract even the casual observer.

COMBS!
OFFICE OF THE INDIA RUBBER COMB CO.,
New York, January 2, 1866.
THE HARD RUBBER PATENT OF NELSON Goodyear were extended May 6, 1865, for seven years by the United States Commissioner of Patents.
By final decree of the United States Circuit Court, rendered October 27, 1862, these patents were fully sustained, and all previous and subsequent infringers have been put under injunction in each Circuit in the United States where suits have been brought. In every case costs and damages have been awarded. Over two hundred injunctions against merchants and dealers, in various parts of the country, have been granted by the United States Courts. It is the intention of this Company to protect its rights by prosecuting with the utmost vigor of the law all infringers, whether manufacturers or dealers, large or small. This Company has the sole privilege of manufacturing India Rubber and Gutta Percha Combs, and again cautions the Trade and the public against purchasing or selling any Combs not having its copyrighted label and licensed stamp:
I. R. Comb Co., Goodyear's Patent, May 6, 1851.
All Combs not thus stamped are illegal, and their sale is an infringement of the exclusive right of this Company and will be stopped by the Courts, and the parties selling them—no matter how innocently or ignorantly they engage—will be mulcted in damages. Honest merchants can avoid all trouble by purchasing only of responsible houses and refusing to buy Combs not stamped as above. The most casual inspection of the Combs will show whether they are stamped or not.
The customers of the India Rubber Comb Company and all dealers in Combs, are particularly requested to inform the undersigned attorneys of parties who sell infringing Combs. Any expense incurred in thus bringing infringers to our notice will be repaid.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN is published this morning. It contains the latest telegraphic news from the East and California—a selection of the best articles appearing in THE DAILY OREGONIAN,—full and reliable news from the Mines, and the most copious commercial information published by any paper in the State.

The average amount of reading matter in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is double that published by any other journal in Oregon; and in the particular of Commercial statistics and the Markets we aim to make it the most reliable paper especially in matters pertaining to Oregon interests.

☞ Single copies 12½ cents, or $3 00 per year, to any part of the United States, or British Columbia.

TREASURE, PRODUCTS, ETC.—The Pacific coast is now furnishing to the commercial marts of the world vast amounts of silver and gold, and to this may be added coal, petroleum, etc. The following amount of treasure was received in San Francisco from Oregon, Idaho and other sources during the last six months:

From California, Northern Mines	$12,327,734
From California, Southern Mines	2,238,384
From Nevada	7,295,,18
From Coastwise Ports, Oregon, etc.,	1,970,960
Imports Foreign, British Columbia, etc.	1,345,240
Total	$25,113,745

From a late number of the San Francisco Mercantile Gazette and Prices Current the following extract is made regarding fuel and coal mining: "The present very considerable and the immense prospective demand for fuel in California, imparts to the question of its cheap supply a peculiar interest, both as a matter of public and domestic economy. To us nothing is more vitally important since in its solution are involved so many considerations bearing upon our material prosperity. Upon this we shall be mainly dependent for the generation of that motive power that is hereafter to carry on our mining and manufacturing industries, sustain our commerce, and even, to a great extent, our mechanical and agricultural pursuits, and, in short, all the great arts and interests of both war and peace. Being of such practical importance, it is not strange that this question of fuel supply should have attracted the attention of our capitalists and business men, a number of whom have lately become largely interested, as we understand, in the partially developed coal mines of Mount Diablo, and elsewhere upon this coast, with a view to pushing them, by a liberal application of capital, to such a point of productiveness as will meet and satisfactorily answer the entire home demand for coal. Should this project be carried out it would no doubt result in advantage to the consumer and in pecuniary profit to the parties concerned. In the meantime, the coal mines, both in this State and in Washington Territory, are turning out their regular supplies of a steadily improving quality of fuel which, recommended both by its excellence and cheapness, is growing in favor with all classes of consumers." We quote from the same paper: "Vessels with Oregon lines are three regular steamship lines, besides sailing packets running to and from Portland. The low rates inaugurated early in the season for freight and passage have operated as a strong incentive to the full development of the freight and passage traffic of the coast. We regret our inability to furnish any reliable data as to the value and extent of this growing branch of our trade. The low exempting coasting vessels from clearing at the Custom House, thus deprives us to a great extent, of the nature and value of our shipments. From thence we receive flour, apples, wool, and other produce, and a vast amount of treasure." Speaking of the great enterprise to connect the Russian Possessions with the American continent, it says: "To the North our interests have been quickened by the presence of the Western Union Telegraph expedition—Col Bulkley. This fleet wintered in our harbor, has refitted and a portion sailed for its destination, soon to be followed by the remainder. Several cargoes of breadstuffs have been exported to the Russian Possessions, and to ply in return have sent out fleet and fine. Trade with the British Columbia appears to be, for the time being, on the wane." In a notice, in regard to petroleum, published in this paper, a few days ago, we noticed a sample sent here from the Hayward Petroleum Co. To this we add what is said of it from the Mercantile Gazette: "The production of California petroleum is steadily increasing, and is evidently destined to become a great source of wealth to the State. The adoption of new methods of opening the claims, by tunnels rather than by boring wells, has in most cases given satisfactory results, and a steady supply of good thin oil, like that from Pennsylvania, has been obtained in several places. Regular shipments are now made from San Buenaventura to San Francisco, and one claim has furnished over 1,500 barrels, which is not one fourth probably of what might have been saved. Preparations are making for a more active development by tunnels, which it is now believed are more likely to cut the springs of oil than vertical borings. The beautiful thin green oil resembling that of Venango county, Pa., are numerous in the Santa Anna and Amerfre mountain ranges, and several are being developed by San Francisco capitalists, with every prospect of success. Two or more refineries are now in operation in this city, producing a superior quality of illuminating and of lubricating oil from the native petroleum. A large refinery is being erected at the Buena Vista claim, in the Tulare Valley, where there is an extensive region, giving promise of an abundant supply of oil." It will be seen from the above that Oregon and Portland are beginning to be appreciated by leading commercial writers, and not left out of reports altogether as has been the case heretofore.

MILWAIN & JOYST.—The old familiar firm of Seymour & Joyst, established in the store and tin ware trade of this city in 1852, was succeeded in 1864 by that of Milwain & Joyst. Since the year 1853 the ground on Front and First streets is the center of the block bounded south by Alder, and north by Washington streets, has been the field of their operations, which were always quite extensive. A few years since a brick, fronting 25 feet on Front street was erected, two stories high, and 90 feet deep, to which the past few months has been added a building of uniform appearance on First street, making a continuous salesroom on the first floor 200 by 25 feet in size. The upper story of the new building is calculated for the workshop, and the premises are equal in point of finish every way, to the most extensive store and tin store on the Pacific coast. We are more than pleased to witness and record such success. Of prosperity in our city, and hope the enterprising proprietors may be fully compensated for their fine improvements by an increasing business. Notwithstanding the additional room given them by the erection of this new building, they still could find employment for more. The building was constructed by Mr. M. M. Burtes, and is in accordance with the good character of work that gentleman has the reputation of performing.

FIRE.—No sound can equal an alarm of fire in this city to arouse that class of our population known as "the firemen," to extraordinary exertions. At 11:20 A. M., yesterday the bells of the various companies were rung, and in an incredibly short space of time the machines were all making speed in the direction of Salmon street, on Front, where a pile of rubbish thrown over the river bank was on fire, and spreading to the older walk. The fire was soon smothered, and damage to the sidewalk prevented. No definite knowledge was found as to how the heap was set, but it was probably the work of some careless fellow who had no fear of the Department before him.

THE NEW DREDGER.—The last of the machinery for the new dredger was taken to the boat from the Oregon Iron Works yesterday. It will soon be placed in its position, and before many days the machine will be in active operation. From what we have seen of this new machine, and those at work in the harbor of San Francisco, we are led to believe that it will be a most effective one. The Pacific Mail Company are now having a very large one constructed of the pattern of this for Portland, for the purpose of dredging out a "hole" in which to land their steamships to be employed in the China trade.

OVERLAND TRAVEL.—Travel to California by the Oregon Stage Company's coaches is increasing very gratifyingly. The owners of the line, Messrs. H. W. Corbett & Co., have taken the greatest precaution to provide for the comfort of passengers, and a trip is now really a pleasure. By taking steamer to Corvallis a distance of 80 miles stage travel is saved, in going by steamer to Eugene city, and there taking stage, the distance is about 446 miles in connect with the cars at Oroville. The beauties of nature to be seen along the route, in going by stage entirely from Portland, is certainly some compensation.

AN ILL RUMOR.—An idle rumor was in circulation last evening in effect that the steamship Fidelitor had been lost at sea. It was very probably one of those idle rumors set afloat carelessly by nobody, as we could trace it to no reliable source. There has certainly nothing of the kind been received by the telegraph line which furnishes the press dispatches.

Later.—Dr Plummer informs us that the Fidelitor was at her wharf in Victoria yesterday, and will sail to-day for Portland.

PORTLAND ACADEMY.—The Advocate says the next session of this Institution, deserted so shabbily by the renegade Sayre, will begin about the first of September. The Board of Trustees have secured the services of T. M. Gatch, A. M., as Principal. His connection with the Academy will be permanent. Competent assistants will be employed for all the departments of the school. Prof. Gatch has a reputation as a teacher of the highest character. His qualifications, faithfulness and success have been acknowledged in all the institutions in which he has taught.

ELLENDALE WOOLEN GOODS.—The steamer Alert, from Oregon City yesterday afternoon, landed several large cases of manufactured goods from the Ellendale Woolen Factory, at Dallas, Oregon. Thus we see that the distance to be traveled to obtain our most merchantable articles is being greatly diminished. The grand secret of success in an empire is to be found in the smallness of the exports of raw materials. By the present rapid increase of manufacturers in our State, Oregon will soon become an empire in itself.

RE-OCCUPIED.—The steamship Orpheus discharged her inward cargo at the lower dock of Couch & Flanders Wharf, which has been under water until a few days since for nearly three months past. The Oregon Steam Navigation Company are also using the lower portion of their magnificent dock, and all other wharves are now unobstructed. The season of high water was protracted an unusual length of time the present year, and we trust it may be many years before we shall be obliged to again record such a circumstance.

PIONEER BALL CLUB.—This association, composed of young gentlemen of this place, played an interesting game of base ball at their grounds last evening. Their progress is certainly remarkable, and the game is very lively. Quite a number of visitors were on the grounds. They play again this evening.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE.—The Teachers' Institute of this State will be held at Oregon City next week. There are very many in this city who will attend. Rev Dr Wythe, Hon. J. Q. Thornton, and Dr Flake will deliver lectures before the Institute.

DEFER.—The motion for a new trial in the case of Clarke, argued before Judge Hoffman yesterday, was denied.

CLARKE.—The steamship Orpheus will not sail until 9 o'clock this evening.

PATENT GILDED PIANO FORTES.—That elegant and beautiful instrument the Patent Gilded Piano Forte, manufactured by Lindeman & Sons, New York arrived on the Orpheus on Wednesday last, consigned to Shanahan & Dufrene corner First and Morrison streets. Yesterday, in company with Prof Grob, we visited and inspected the new invention. The word Cycloid means circular, and this style is similar in appearance to a square piano with the back corners cut off and rounded. This gives it the cycloid shape. The case consists of four twenty four to twenty six veneers of rich mahogany each thick, of maple wood glued together; these are placed in a press of circular form to which are applied screws of great power. A force is thus applied equally in every part so that when the veneers are cut in two a solid case with shape and capable of sustaining any strain of the string without giving way. The principal object of the pressure is thus attained—elegance compactness and strength. The scale follows the circle so that no space is lost. As a piece of furniture in the parlor, it surpasses anything we have seen. The writer saw some years ago, an attempt to complete a similar instrument by Frederick Jacks, of San Francisco. It remained for Lindeman & Sons to be successful. Two of their instruments are now set up at Shanahan & Dufrene's, and Mr Grob, the well known pianist, gave them a fair trial yesterday and is in our opinion that the purity and solidity of tone is scarcely equaled. As these pianos are just off the ship, after a long sea voyage, the piano at last is hardly a fair one of its capacity. It has been tried by Thalberg Gottschalk, Mason, and other eminent artists, who pronounce it the finest of the square class piano now extant and equal in power to a semi Grande. Our Portland firm deserves credit for their enterprise and do not hesitate to obtain all the latest first-class instruments etc.

HOLMAN & HARRIS.—Capt Charles Holman, long and favorably known in this community, has become associated with Mr Wm H Harris, formerly of Oak Point, Washington Territory, and under the firm name of Holman & Harris, established a wholesale house at Umatilla, for the supply of dry goods, clothing, mining tools produce etc to the trade of the upper country. The gentlemen deserve and we hope they may reap abundant success in their operations.

BASE BALL.—The young men composing the Pioneer Base Ball Club have taken a new field for their sports on Oak street, in the vicinity of Fifth and Sixth streets, and met last evening for a game, which was well attended by spectators. The sport is very exhilarating, and the spirit with which the members participate shows that its enlivening effects are by no means a small matter. A match will soon be made up for the championship by chosen sides.

FOOEY.—The most damaging experienced in this vicinity for many years, hung over the city yesterday morning. It was so thick that for two hours after the hour for the ferry boat to start running, a landing could not be made with safety. The steamer Watson G Hurst, for the upper Columbia was delayed in consequence, and a collision between the Alert, for Oregon City and the ferry boat, was barely averted.

SHIPPING ARRIVALS.—As an indication of the times we may state that for three days past the steamer Watson G Hurst has taken about three hundred tons of freight to the Cascades, marked for various regions of Montana Territory. Fully one half of the above amount was composed of purchases made in the markets of this city—the remainder was from San Francisco, being shipped direct.

SALMON STREET SEWER.—The new County Court House will be occupied early next week. The Commissioners have started a sewer on Salmon street, for the purpose of properly draining this most excellent property.

The Union Party in Idaho.

The Union County Convention of Nez Perces county, Idaho, met at Lewiston on the 11th inst., S. D. Cochran chairman, and D. W. C. Dunwell secretary. After the usual preliminaries, the following persons were duly nominated for the several county offices of said county: For Representatives, Amos Mann, of Lewiston, and James L. Garvey, of Elk City; Sheriff, Henry Dwight, of Lewiston; Treasurer, W. A. Bolcher, of Lewiston; County Recorder, H. P. Howe, of Lewiston; Probate Judge, S. D. Cochran, of Elk City; County Clerk, Henry Peck, of Clear Water Station; County Commissioners, Joseph Eastman, of Wixon precinct, Levi Ankey, of Lewiston, and R Hewitt, of Elk City.

On motion Frank Dalton, Esq., of Lewiston, was declared the unanimous choice of the Convention for District Attorney of the 1st Judicial District.

The following resolutions were unanimously passed:

Resolved, That we accept the principles of the platform of the Union Territorial Convention that met at Boise City on the 23d day of June last.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the nominee of the Union Territorial Convention, and in J. M. Kirkpatrick we hope to find a friend of North Idaho, and deem it to be to the interest of all citizens this side of the mountains to support him for Delegate to Congress.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the admission of our Territory, and of a new Territory being organized composed of North Idaho, a portion of Washington and of Montana.

Resolved, That we regard it as of vital importance to the people of North Idaho that the Hale treaty with the Nez Perces Indians shall be ratified by Congress.

Resolved, That the apportionment of delegates to the next Union County Convention shall be one delegate at large for each precinct, and one for every twenty-five Union votes cast for Delegate to Congress, or fraction over twenty-five.

S. D. COCHRAN, Chairman.
D. W. C. DUNWELL, Secretary.

A COUGH, COLD, OR SORE THROAT REQUIRES IMMEDIATE attention, as neglect oftentimes results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are a simple remedy, and will almost invariably give immediate relief.

THE WORLD LAUGHS in its sleeve at the efforts of a few envious Dentists to decry the Succedent. It is natural, perhaps, that they should dislike it, since its popularity interferes with the sale of their wares, but how ridiculous in them to show their spite when its animus is so palpable.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The stomach is the fountain-head of scores of diseases which infest the human system. Indigestion, bad enough, per se, generates diarrhœa, dysentery, faintness, vertigo, palpitation of the heart, general debility, &c. Get rid of it, then, at once, by going through a course of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

A palatable and refreshing preparation, which as surely relieves all complaints of the stomach and its dependencies, as the sunshine melts the snow. The reason why so many die with Consumption is because they neglect to use the proper remedy in season. They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and a purity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St Croix rum. For particulars see circulars and testimonials on each bottle.

Beware of imposters. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U S Stamp immediately over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an imposter. Any person imitating this bottle or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U S Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

Rumors of the Fenian War

SOME FUN IN A CANADA HOTEL—HOW, OR HOW A CANADIAN COLONEL LOST HIS WHISKERS

[From the Detroit Tribune June 7.]

There has been a great deal written about the recent Fenian invasion in Canada at Fort Erie, but all the incidents and facts connected therewith have not been told—nor do we apprehend that the future history of Canada will reveal all that has been done in that connection. We have several little facts which were elicited by our special correspondent at the seat of war, that have never yet been published but are too good to be lost, therefore we have concluded to give them to the public. In telling so we shall not at tempt to exaggerate anything. We give the facts as they transpired with names and dates

Colonel Stoughton Dennis, of the Queen's Own, accompanied that organization to Ridgeway, we believe on the morning of Saturday, June 2d but Colonel Booker being the ranking officer took command. Colonel Dennis proceeded from Port Colborne on board the tug Robb to Fort Erie village and assumed command at that place. This vessel had on board the Dunnville Naval Brigade, forty three men, and fifty eight men and two officers of the Welland Canal Field Artillery. This comprised Colonel Dennis' force. A part of this patrolled the river and the balance scoured the country along the banks of the Niagara river, where a number of Fenian prisoners were taken.

In the afternoon when our correspondent saw and conversed with Colonel Dennis on the dock at Fort Erie, he appeared to be the happiest mortal living, and one might think he was considering what disposition was best to be made of the prisoners—whether to serve them up raw or cooked for the hungry volunteers, or whether he had not better read the Riot Act to them and then hang them up to dry. With his flashy trappings, magnificent mustache, luxurious whiskers and every inch military air, our correspondent could not but look upon him as brimfull of fight. Our correspondent thought that Colonel Dennis might run farther, run faster, climb more fences, and "go through" more haymows, if not swallow more Fenians, than any other man in the neighborhood, and we rather think he could.

Colonel Dennis is evidently "common sense gray," and the result will show that this theory is correct. On Saturday afternoon, June 2d, it will be remembered, a straggling body of Fenians, numbering, probably, one hundred and fifty, swooped down upon the garrison at Fort Erie where Colonel Dennis was in command. He was talking with the volunteers and prisoners upon the dock when the yells of the attacking party attracted his attention, as they came at a furious rate over the hill that overlooks the village. A lady who resided near by came down upon the dock, and in the most excited manner informed the soldiers and all congregated there that the Fenians were coming and it would not be safe to remain. Colonel Dennis thought so too, and moved off very much "demoralized," leaving the volunteers to fight it out on that dock if it took all summer. Our correspondent saw Colonel Booker get out of harm's way, but all things considered, Colonel Dennis made the best time. If an infuriated Choctaw had been at his heels, he could not have moved at a livlier rate. He ran as far as the street, and, after a moment's hesitation, turned to the left and pushed forward toward Lake Erie never stopping until he reached the residence of Edwin Thomas, which is a short distance below the office of the American Consul.

At this time the Fenian bullets were coming thick and fast towards the volunteers, who were compelled to seek refuge in Mrs Lewis' house. Previous to this skirmish there had been a large boat load of spectators landed from Buffalo, and many were exposed to the flying bullets of both parties. Some of those visitors hastily retreated toward the boat, and the others scattered in every direction out of danger. Two of the number—P. B. Lansing of this city and George Coombs of Batavia, (N. Y.)—followed the retreating form of Colonel Dennis, but were distanced in the race. They, however, reached the residence of Thomas, referred to above, but were entirely ignorant of the whereabouts of their competitor, Colonel D. They found Mrs Thomas and the children crying, fearing that the Fenians would murder them all.

Scarcely had Lansing and Coombs reached the house ere a Canadian volunteer, frightened half out of his senses, came and sought shelter in the same place. He cried, "Save me, save me, they will kill me if they catch me!" and without as much as "by your leave," deposited his gun in the hall, ran up stairs, jumped into Thomas' bed and covered himself up. Thomas, who is an enthusiastic Englishman, threatened to shoot the fellow if he did not leave the house, but threats and entreaties were alike in vain. He subsequently decided to leave, however, if he should be provided with a suit of citizen's clothes. These were given him, and he disappeared out of the back door and was not seen afterwards. His clothes and gun were put in the garret.

As soon as the above referred to individual left the place, a wounded volunteer strayed into the house and was afforded shelter. He was carried into the garret, his wound dressed, and every kindness shown him. The parties in the house had just emerged from the garret after attending to the wounded man, when a squad of Fenians came along and inquired if there were any British soldiers in the place. They received a negative reply, but searched the place to satisfy themselves, failing, however to find the wounded man in the garret. A guard was placed in the vicinity, and for an hour or so everything remained quiet. Thomas feared that his secretion of the volunteer might become known to the Fenians, and late in the day one of the party reported the matter to a Fenian officer. A guard was sent after the volunteer, who had by this time learned that he was to be surrendered, and he came down from his perch, with a white handkerchief flattering in the breeze, as a token of surrender, he yielded and was taken prisoner. He found an asylum in a hospital, and was humanely cared for.

In the meantime Lansing and Coombs went into Thomas' barn, and while there their attention was attracted by a noise in the hay mow. Upon looking up they saw the head of a human being protruding from a quantity of hay. A parley ensued, as follows:

Man in the hay (trembling—Gentlemen, are you Fenians, you know?

Party—No, sir, we are Americans who came here for protection from the Fenians. Who are you?

Man in the hay—My name is Dennis, Colonel Dennis, and I want to be helped out of this, you know.

Party—Are you wounded? [Rather sarcastic under the circumstances.]

Man in the hay—No, I'm not wounded, you know, but I'm worry tired.

The party referred to went to the rescue of the individual, who turned out to be Colonel Dennis, of the Queen's Own, and found that he had taken off all his clothing with the exception of his shirt and drawers. He remarked that the Fenians knew him, "you know," and if caught he would be hung. The Colonel's uniform and arms were found buried in the hay. Upon being assured that his unexpected visitors were friends and not enemies, he proposed that his whiskers should be taken off and his person otherwise disguised, so that the Fenians would not know him. Lansing and Coombs acceded to this proposition, and by the aid of a pair of scissors, which were obtained from Thomas' house, removed the whiskers as close as they could with the implements at hand, and Colonel Dennis put the finishing touch on with a razor. He was very nervous, however, and while shaving himself cut his face in two places quite severely. He was subsequently provided with a suit of citizens' clothes, and by being passed off as Smith, a broker of Buffalo, succeeded in eluding the vigilance of the dreadful Fenians. At night he managed to get through the lines by the aid of the Fenian countersign, which was "Erin go Bragh," and reported to Colonel Peacock, who encamped a few miles distant. He returned with that column to Fort Erie on Sunday, donned his uniform, and with the exception of his short ornaments looked himself once more.

Any one who saw Colonel Dennis before the engagement on Saturday and on the following day, will recollect his changed appearance, which is accounted for above.

THE RING OF CHEOPS.—One of the most remarkable curiosities, perhaps, in the world, is the Ring of Cheops, which it is with no small degree of satisfaction we can say, remains an exchange, exists in an American collection accessible to all.

Cheops was the builder of a pyramid that bears his name, and, as if to make the structure bear his name inoffensively till its component parts had all crumbled into dust, the very stones and bricks are stamped with his name. And yet he lived 2,150 years ago, and his colossal works were old when ancient nations flourished. The boy Joseph, led a slave to the banks of the Nile, looked up in wonder at them; Moses and the Israelites drew a breath of relief as they receded from their gaze.

Yet here we possess the signet ring of this mighty monarch! It was the crowning price of Dr Henry Abbott's life of research in Egypt. The style of the hyeroglyphics is in perfect accordance with those in the tombs about the Great Pyramids, and those within the oval comprise the name of Cheops.

The details are minutely accurate and beautifully executed. The ring is of the finest gold, and weighs nearly an ounce. This remarkable antique was found at Ghizeh, in a tomb and now lies among the treasures of the Abbott Collection in the Museum of the New York Historical Society.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND July 27th, 1866

Very little change of interest from the general features of the past two or three weeks can be noted in matters relating to finance. Money is very tight and the want of capital for paying investments is being felt more fully every day. All money transactions are for the most part on a limited scale and only for passing wants. The meagre supply of money is doubtless owing mainly in consequence of the harvest our State is regarding usury which should be repealed at the first opportunity now that business of all kinds is in the most prosperous condition. There is no fact of more daily occurrence and $5, $10, $100 of the surplus of the State would find ready and safe investments here in a short time, were it possible to obtain it.

Our late advices from Washington city are really encouraging. Our correspondent, Steamer Day, refers to several appropriations for the benefit of Oregon which are much needed. This is well enough as far as it goes but there is a greater necessity for Government to do much more for us. This river and those tributaries, also the bar at the mouth of the Columbia require that an additional appropriation be made at once to secure the placement of buoys and other facilities for good ing the master or ship owner in entering our harbors. There is not on earthly thing, on the Bar at the mouth of the Columbia to be taken as a guide to pilots or mariners. Nothing whatever by which one can be informed regarding the extent of breakers in that vicinity and we observe that the Light House at Cape Disappointment has been surrounded with ordnance of a very heavy class, which would undoubtedly shatter it to the ground at the discharge of any one of them. These subjects should be properly brought before our representation in Congress.

Senator Williams has been informed regarding the necessity for buoys at the mouth of the river, and will no doubt do all that is possible to secure them. On the last trip of the Orefianme to this port from San Francisco, it became necessary to lay at anchor, at Wooly Island, for nine hours. The placement of two or three buoys would have obviated this delay.

We have before referred, on information derived through the press of San Francisco, to the great scarcity of tonnage on the Pacific coast, and have heretofore believed the reports were true—that it would yet be a serious detriment to our breadstuffs markets. While in California we learned differently. There is not now, has not been, nor is there likely to be, any lack of vessels to carry away all that Oregon and California are able to produce. One large and splendid ship, the Imperial, from Hong Kong, has been disengaged for a long time, and of a list of twenty five ships and barks, seventeen were anxious to obtain a charter on the 18th instant. The demand for imported articles we found to be very limited at San Francisco, so much so in fact, that two or three ships (among them the Speedwell, with an inward cargo of coffee,) would proceed direct to European markets on the owner's account. All the packets formerly engaged in the Oregon trade have been drawn off, and are now either disengaged, or under charter for different ports. The B. B. Scranton has proceeded to Australia, the Alaska to Puget Sound, the Live Yankee in the San Francisco and Honolulu trade, and the Jane A. Falkenburg in the Portland and Honolulu trade.

Wholesale and Jobbing Prices.

PORTLAND, July 27, 1866.

There is a decided improvement in the volume of business transpiring under the above heading for two weeks past. Sales for the mining districts of Montana are more free than ever before, adding to the confidence of the mercantile community. Trade elsewhere is good. Prices are but a fraction above San Francisco quotations, and stocks are equal in assortment to those of the latter market. Imports, which for some time past have been slight are now improving quite perceptibly.

Domestic Produce Market.

PORTLAND, July 27th, 1866

The approaching week will witness the beginning of active operations in the harvest of grain throughout this State. For some time past the farmers have been employed rather steadily in securing the grass crop, which is quite extensive in all parts of the State. In consequence of these operations, but little business has been transacted in the line of domestic produce in this market, and prices are nominal.

The crop of cereals promises to exceed that of any former year in Oregon. The grain crop of California is far below that of 1865. A visit to the best grain growing district of that State, during the harvest, showed to us that the reports of an extraordinary yield were fabulous, and notwithstanding the statements of speculators, the most of farmers there refuse to sell at the prices at present ruling in San Francisco. All the grain has been secured. As a specimen of expeditious harvesting in California, it is stated that one farmer cut and threshed 6,000 bushels of wheat in three days.

A gentleman in Yolo county has invented an arrangement for lifting lodged or tangled grain, so that it may be harvested without difficulty. The invention consists of a set of fingers, practically arranged, attached and projecting, in front of the cutting bar to a clipper. It is perfectly practicable, and has become quite popular in those districts of California where the grain is so often thrown down by wind and rains.

Cotton Goods and Woolen Market.

PORTLAND, July 27 1866

Our latest dates from the East seem to indicate that the market for wool was assuming a firmer tone and a better feeling prevails. Along the coast of the Atlantic much activity was manifested, and buyers were taking other markets in the interior. Quotations were from 40 to 60 cents ₱ P. The receipts at this market for the week ending to-day have been limited and prices are about as indicated in our quotations.

The market for woolen goods is firm at quotations. The demand for cotton goods still continues large, but prices are on the same. We quote:

Weekly Retail Family Market.

PORTLAND July 27 1866

The receipts of supplies, since our last, from the markets of California have been about equal to the demand and prices rule high. Apples are quoted at from $2 to $3 ₱ box.

With a meagre supply of eggs in the market prices keep up and are firm.

The stock of choice butter is scarce and full prices have been obtained.

There is an increased supply of young chickens and ducks, the latter coming in from a distance.

Potatoes are declining, but few of the kinds in market are quoted.
